CARPET forum

The CARPET forum, a communication portal for the CARPET community, is now online (www.carpet-project.net/forum/).

The forum will support better networking of providers, users and developers of e-publishing tools and services. Apart from offering the opportunity to discuss a broad spectrum of issues and identify existing needs and deficits, it will also help users find cooperation partners or efficiently support their usage scenarios through exchange and collaboration. To meet the needs of software tools and services from the CARPET catalogue, as well as other subject complexes, the forum will be expanded on a need basis.
